

Tony Santore has served as a Fairfax Country Fire Chaplain for thirteen years. He has Bachelors Degree from the University of Florida and a Masters Degree from Frostburg state University. He was ordained by the Catholic Apostolic Church in North America (CACINA) an independent Catholic Community in 1996 after completing studies in Pastoral Care at CACINA's Saint Charles Institute. He has been the pastor of Holy Trinity Parish in Reston Virginia for the past fourteen years and the presiding Bishop of CACINA since 2005. Chaplain Santore is also a member of the Chaplain fellowship Ministries a non-denominational association of fire, police and hospital chaplains.